Lesson 17 — town number

Copyright 2005
All Rights Reserved

Do you live in a little town? Can you see all the numbers in the town?

I can see numbers!
My street has a number.
I live on 10th Street.
Is a number on your street?
What is your street?

Do you see numbers in your town? Do you see numbers in your house? Do you see numbers at school?
Look and look!

Are you 6 years old?
Are you 7 years old?
Here are numbers!

On my birthday I will be 7 years old. Will you be 7
years old, too? _____

In my town all the houses have numbers. I like the number on my house!
It is 1234!

Do you have a number
on your house?

Here is the phone at my house. There are numbers on the phone.

My family has a phone number. People phone me! What is your phone number?

---

There is a clock at my school. There is a clock on my street. There is a clock in my town! There are numbers on the clocks.

What are the numbers on the clocks?

Lesson 39 — dragon huge tiny

Matt liked dragons. He had not seen a dragon, but he liked dragons.

Matt had books about dragons and he had seen cartoon dragons on TV.

The books said that dragons can be huge and dragons can be tiny. The books said a lot about dragons, but Matt had lots of questions.

Matt went into his bedroom. In his bedroom was a little dragon! Matt was happy. He said to the dragon, "I have questions. Will you help me?"

The dragon said, "Yes, Matt! I like questions! What are your questions?"

Matt had lots of questions. Number one was, "Will you play with me?"

The dragon said, "Yes!" and they had fun all afternoon.

Then Mom called, "Time for dinner!" After dinner, Mom said, "Do you have questions, Matt? I have time for questions."

Matt said, "The dragon helped me with the questions, Mom, so you do not have to help. The dragon and I had fun! He had time for all my questions."

After school Matt went home.
Mom was working in the house.

Matt said, "Mom, I have questions! Can dragons read? Can dragons skip and hop like me? Do dragons swim? Can they fly? Can I have a dragon for a pet? Is a dragon a good pet?"

Mom said, "No questions, Matt. I have work to do."

Matt said to Mom, "Do dragons eat breakfast? Do they eat oranges? Do they like fruit? Do they eat all the vegetables? Do dragons eat fast? Do dragons have good manners?"

Mom said, "No questions, Matt. It is time to go to school."

In the morning Matt went to school.

He said to Miss Green, "Do dragons sleep at night? Do they sleep in the day? Can a little dragon sleep in a bed? Will a dragon sleep for hours like I do?"

Miss Green said, "No questions, Matt. It is time for reading."

Matt said, "Can I read a book about dragons?"

Matt went out after he ate his lunch. Mr. Hall was out with the kids. All the kids were running and playing.

"Mr. Hall," said Matt. "I have questions about dragons. Is a dragon as big as a horse? Is a dragon as huge as a house? Can dragons be as tiny as a duck?"

Mr. Hall said, "No questions, Matt. In a minute we will go in to work."
