Suggestions for use of the sentence strips:

Reading these sentence strips is a good way of practicing and reinforcing the new vocabulary. Encourage your students to read words in phrases, with the eye going ahead as the words are said aloud. Practicing the sentences on the strips will help fluency.

- The strips can be photocopied on tag and then cut out, or on plain paper for each child or group.
- The strips are good for buddy reading or partner reading. The children can take turns picking up a strip and reading it to the partner, who checks that the reading is accurate.
- The sheets could be made smaller on the photocopier, and the sentences in one lesson fit on a single sheet of paper to take home to read.
- The students can practice the strips from earlier lessons, too, and as they will be more familiar with this vocabulary this is a good fluency exercise.
- Use the sentence strips in small groups. Give each child a strip, and they can read the sentences in turn.
- The strips can be put in a pile and stapled on the left end so they can be 'opened' and read singly.
- Let the students sort the strips - putting all the strips with a special word into a group.
- Use highlighters to show the more difficult words.
- Practice printing the sentences in an exercise book.
- Take a sentence strip and illustrate it.

"What is seven plus six?" I asked.

I asked, "Do you like vegetables?"

We did ten questions in math today.

Grandma asked me about my friends.

Write ten words and read them to me.

I asked Mom about going to your house.

Will you ask the boys to your birthday?

"Did you see your brother?" asked Mom.

I asked my friend a question about pets.

The dragon asked, "Do you live in a cave?"

Mom asked me to go to the store for her.

Grandpa asked me a question about school.

I like him because he is funny.

I like recess because I play ball.

I play this game because it is fun.

I like math because I like numbers.

Go out because it is very nice today.

I live here because it is a nice town.

I like you because you are nice to me.

I like fruit because it is good for me.

I went home because it was lunch time.

I ride my bike because it is lots of fun.

I do not like the dog because he jumps.

I work for Dad because helping is good.

I like the dragon because he makes fire.

He likes that book because it is very funny.

Mom called me because it was dinner time.

I asked you to help because I cannot do it.

The dragon was sad because he had no fire.

I am happy because all my friends are here.

I ate the vegetables because they are good.

I ate breakfast because it was time for school.

This isn't a very good toy.

It's a very funny thing to do!

I won't ask you that question.

It's time to go out for recess.

That isn't a good book to read.

The baby isn't sleeping tonight.

It isn't good to be in for recess.

I won't go the store for an hour.

It's a very big fire in the forest.

I will go when it's time for school.

Grandpa isn't asking me questions.

I can't eat all my breakfast today.

My little sister can't read this story.

I won't play music when I am working.

I can't go to Grandma's house tomorrow.

The little boy won't eat all his breakfast.

The little girl won't eat all her vegetables.

I can't go out today because I have to work.

The huge dragon can't get into the tiny cave.

It's a funny dragon because it's green and pink.

I am going to sleep now.

What are you eating now?

What could the sheep do?

Now you can call this number.

Could you go flying in a plane?

The dragon couldn't make fire.

Is the little baby sleeping now?

You could ask me that question.

Could you make music with this?

Now I could read this big book.

Now I will ask my good question.

I could do that about a year ago.

The seven year old girl could skip.

Could you have a pig in the house?

What fruit do you like to eat now?

Is now a good time to go to the store?

Could you eat all of that big breakfast?

I could not go because I had math to do.

I could play this game with you tomorrow.

Could you go into the forest and see a dragon?

Are you talking to me?

This toy can talk to me.

Mom said, "Talk to me now!"

Look at the back of this book!

We went back home on the plane.

We talked about eating vegetables.

I won't talk when I am eating lunch.

Once there was a funny talking pig.

Could you talk to me after school?

I will talk to you after I eat dinner.

We went back to school after lunch.

I could see the people talking on TV.

I couldn't talk to Grandma last night.

My little brother talks back to Mom.

The boy talked and talked in the car.

I will take something back to the store.

After recess we ran back in the school.

Was the brown cow talking to the horse?

The boys and girls were talking in school.

We got in the car and went back to school.

Who is that happy baby?

Who is that nice looking boy?

I can run from here to there.

I was talking to him at recess.

Did you see him eating dinner?

The funny present is from him.

Who is the nice present from?

I can see who is in the green car.

I live down the street from him.

I will run from my house to yours.

Who talks from morning to night?

The present is from a good friend.

Who ate all the fruit in the house?

I asked him a question at lunch time.

What a funny present! It is from me.

I got toys from Mom on my birthday.

Who likes vegetables for breakfast?

I am going to work with him in school.

I got a little present from my grandma.

My brother is here. I will play with him.

I talk with my mouth.

A goose has a funny mouth.

Run! Make your legs go fast!

My friend has very red hair.

I have two ears on my head.

That bird has a very big head.

Mom said that I have big feet.

I have two hands and two feet.

I have one nose and one mouth.

I have blue eyes and black hair.

Make your arms go up and down.

I can make my legs go very fast.

The girl had a lot of brown hair.

I see lots of things with my eyes.

She has brown hair and nice eyes.

The big man had a funny red nose.

My hands go in time with the music.

You have your hand up to ask a question.

Running and skipping are good for my body.

Nose, eyes, mouth and ears are on the head.

I taste things in my mouth.

I like the smell of oranges.

Could you smell the animals?

I can't hear you when you call.

I do not feel very good today.

This story makes me feel good.

Feel the hair on this little cat.

I like the taste of all the fruit.

I can hear people on the street.

I can hear you with my two ears.

I like tasting all the good things.

That vegetable has a funny taste.

That dragon is smelling something.

Mom said that I have good hearing.

There was a funny smell in the cave.

What is that funny smell in the car?

Can you hear the big plane flying up?

Mom asked, "Do you feel good today?"

I can feel and smell and taste oranges.

I am feeling happy because I am at school.

Why won't you talk to me?

Why do you like that story?

Why is your hair looking pink?

Is that why you like the game?

Why can't the dog go to sleep?

Why are you sleeping in school?

Is that why you won't go home?

Why is the orange smelling funny?

Why do you like math and reading?

Why can't you hear me when I call?

Why is this dragon pink and purple?

Why won't you taste this vegetable?

Why are ten people standing there?

Why are all the people running away?

Why is the dragon sleeping in a cave?

Why is your sister reading at recess?

Why is it good to eat a big breakfast?

Why are the people not out at recess?

Mom asked, "Why are you not helping?"

Why is your brother hopping and jumping?

Our family reads at night.

Our horse has two huge ears.

Do you like to hear our music?

Can you feel that funny animal?

All my friends live on our street.

When will it be our dinner time?

Can you hear our mother calling?

Why are you in this huge forest?

Our school is about ten years old.

The people in our school work a lot.

Our family likes to go on boat rides.

Our dinners have lots of vegetables.

We want our presents in the morning.

We will run to our home after school.

Be nice to our little brother and sister.

You ask a question and our hands go up.

We see lots of nice things with our eyes.

We had our breakfast and then went home.

My sister and I like to play with our toys.

Our dog has a brown head and a black body.

I was six a year ago.

My dog has very long ears.

Millions of people fly in planes.

I played the game an hour ago.

Dinosaurs lived a long time ago.

She had her lunch an hour ago.

I ate my dinner a long time ago.

That dinosaur had a huge head!

I could not see a dinosaur here.

The baby went to sleep long ago.

What did the big dinosaurs eat?

My Grandma was a baby years ago.

A million is a very very big number!

Do you like to hear about dinosaurs?

Dinosaurs lived millions of years ago.

She had very long hair and blue eyes.

It was time for school ten minutes ago!

There are millions of people living there.

There are millions of numbers in our town.

I like to hear about the time of dinosaurs.

How old is your pet horse?

How long is a million years?

How can that big dragon fly?

Did you ever see a dinosaur?

Did you ever play that game?

I will not ever see a dinosaur.

I think I will write a long story.

I like to skip every day at school.

I think that present is very nice.

Did you ever talk to a brown cow?

I think I can smell something good!

Did you ever eat a purple vegetable?

I do ten math questions every minute.

I think I can hear your mother calling.

Do you think that dinosaurs could fly?

Was every dinosaur as big as this one?

How did you do all the math in an hour?

You will be my friend for ever and ever.

How could you do that to your nice pet?

Do you eat fruit and vegetables every day?

Do you ever eat plants?

I had good meat in my lunch.

We walk with our legs and feet.

Do you think dinosaurs ate meat?

I like the taste of meat at dinner.

Walking every day is good for you.

My family went for an hour's walk.

I asked a question about the earth.

We had meat for dinner every night.

Dinosaurs walked the earth long ago.

There are lots of plants in the forest.

Did you have meat at breakfast time?

The little plants can go into the earth.

What will you be doing for Earth Day?

I went for a long walk with my Grandpa.

Do you think some dinosaurs ate plants?

The boys walked up and down the street.

Did dinosaurs live on the earth long ago?

Mom planted some vegetables at my house.

Fruits and vegetables are plants you can eat.
